PEA screening: leads where consensus fair value is well above price

As of: 18 October 2026. Universe: listed companies headquartered in the EU or EEA (PEA-eligible), all sizes, excluding banks, insurers, REITs and pre-revenue biotech. Style: quality growth, tilted towards medium-sized niche players, supply-chain bottlenecks, chemicals and "alternative" themes.

> Read this first. This is a list of leads to research further. It is not investment advice and not a valuation. It was built only from free sources reached through web search, because this environment blocks direct access to financial data sites (Yahoo Finance, MarketScreener/Zonebourse, Boursorama, Euronext, etc.). Every price and target below carries its date. Several are from June–August 2026, and Q3 results season (late Oct–Nov) will move many of them. Check the live price and consensus before acting on any line.

1. How the screen works

Thresholds (as agreed): market cap ≥ €50m, ≥ €100k traded per day, ≥ 2 analysts, plus a minimum upside to the average analyst target that depends on size:

| Size bucket | Market cap | Minimum upside to consensus |
|---|---|---|
| S | < €1bn | ≥ 35% |
| M | €1–5bn | ≥ 25% |
| L | > €5bn | ≥ 15% |

Signals checked for each company:

- Upside to the average (or median) analyst target.
- Consensus trend: which way targets and estimates have moved over the last 1–3 months.
  - ↑ = raised or upgraded
  - → = stable or mixed
  - ↓ = cut
- Growth outlook.
- Balance sheet.
- Market position and moat.
- Exposure to a structural theme.

Tiers:

- A: meets the threshold, consensus rising, and the quality-growth case is intact. Best starting point.
- B: meets the threshold, consensus stable or mixed, and the thesis is intact.
- C: meets the threshold, but consensus is falling, or the company is cyclical, value-type, high-risk or a special situation. The price may have fallen faster than the targets ("falling knife" risk).

Lead types (tags used in the tables):

- Revisions↑: analysts are moving up.
- Supply-chain: a niche bottleneck supplier to a high-demand market (AI chips, defence, GLP-1 drugs, radiopharma, grid, rail, offshore wind).
- Derated quality: a high-quality business sold off on a narrative, often the 2026 fear that AI will disrupt software.
- Cheap multiples: low valuation multiples.
- Hidden assets: net cash, a holding discount, or a sum-of-the-parts gap.
- Niche leader: global or European #1 in a narrow market.

Coverage: about 200 companies were checked one by one, and about 140 were rejected (see §6). The full working log is in `research/pea-screening-raw-log.md` (in the repository).

2. Market context that shaped the results

- The AI hardware supply chain has already re-rated. Technoprobe is up ~170% YTD, LU-VE has rallied on a hyperscaler contract, and AT&S is near highs. Most data-centre cooling and power names (LU-VE, Carel, Mersen, Nexans, NKT, Cenergy) now trade within 10–22% of their targets, so they fail the threshold.
  - UBS SMID list via Investing.com
  - LU-VE / TP ICAP
- The February 2026 "AI eats software" sell-off. It created the clearest gaps between price and target in quality software and data names: Scout24, Nemetschek, Atoss, Lectra, Equasens and Ipsos.
  - Euronews
  - Morningstar
- Defence slumped in 2026 after the 2024–25 run. Upside has reopened in second-line names such as Renk, Invisio and Steyr, while targets are still being cut.
  - Admiral Markets on Rheinmetall
- Chemicals: Q2-26 brought the first year-on-year price increase in three years, but the 2026 Iran conflict pushed up costs. Commodity chemicals (Kemira, Lanxess, Wacker) still fail; specialty niches with their own drivers (Alzchem, AMG, Nabaltec) pass.
  - Barclays via Investing.com
- Valuation backdrop: French small caps traded around 10× 2027 earnings versus about 15× for the MSCI France index in May 2026, per Bloomberg as cited by Investing.com.
  - Investing.com
- A structural caveat: sell-side targets are optimistic on average, and most stocks show some upside to consensus at any time. That is why the thresholds are high and why the direction of revisions matters as much as the gap.

3. Core list: 48 leads (sorted by tier, then theme)

Prices and targets are in local currency. "Upside" is the target versus the dated price; where the price is old, upside is shown as a range or flagged.

4. Lead cards

Each card covers: what the company does, why it is a lead, what to watch, and sources.

4.1 AI / semiconductor and electronics supply chain

1. Jenoptik (DE, Tier A)

- What it does: Photonics group. Makes optical modules for chip equipment (a key supplier into the lithography chain), metrology, and smart-mobility and defence optics.
- Why a lead: The clearest positive-revision story in the screen. Warburg raised its target from €32 to €46, DZ Bank from €46 to €48, and Deutsche Bank to €52 Buy in October. The share fell to €37.6 on 15 Oct, about 11% below the 6-Oct level, so the gap widened while targets rose. AI and chip demand is cited as the driver of the 2026 outlook.
- Watch: Exposure to the chip-equipment cycle; Q3 results on 10 Nov.
- Sources: DB €52 · consensus · DZ €48

2. Technoprobe (IT, Tier A, large)

- What it does: Italian world-class maker of probe cards used to test chips on the wafer, including HBM memory and AI accelerators.
- Why a lead: Even after +170% YTD and entry into the FTSE MIB, targets keep rising: Goldman Sachs went from €40 to €44, Equita to €44 (8-Oct, assuming significant capacity growth), Deutsche Bank €45. Equita models €2.4bn sales and €1.3bn EBITDA by 2028.
- Watch: Very strong momentum, so a cyclical drawdown would be violent. Large shareholders have placed stock at a discount before.
- Sources: Equita 8-Oct · Investing consensus

14. SUSS MicroTec (DE, Tier B)

- What it does: Lithography, wafer-bonding and coating tools. Hybrid/temporary bonding is a direct play on HBM and chiplet advanced packaging.
- Why a lead: About 35% upside to a €105 consensus (UBS €105.5, Jefferies €109, Berenberg €125) at roughly 14× forward earnings. Deutsche Bank upgraded to Buy in August.
- Watch: Q2 orders were pulled forward, so Warburg expects a softer second half. EPS revisions have been negative since mid-July, and DZ Bank rates it Sell.
- Sources: finanzen.net / UBS · Investing consensus

15. AT&S (AT, Tier B)

- What it does: High-end PCBs and ABF IC substrates for AI processors; plants in Austria, China and Malaysia.
- Why a lead: Median target €215.5 (16-Oct) against about €152, so +42%. Oddo upgraded it to Outperform at €220 on 4-Sep. The 2026/27 guide is still +30–35% revenue growth at a 25–29% EBITDA margin.
- Watch: The guidance appears trimmed from +45–55%, free cash flow is clearly negative (heavy capex), and coverage is small with one Sell.
- Sources: Börse Express consensus · Oddo upgrade

16. Kontron (AT, Tier B)

- What it does: Embedded and IoT computing, train-to-ground and defence communications, industrial software.
- Why a lead: 13–19 analysts, almost all Buy, average target €28–31 against about €20.6, so +37–49%. Cheap for a business with defence and rail exposure.
- Watch: The price date is not confirmed. The group is acquisitive, and the quality of its cash flow should be checked.
- Sources: aktien.guide

17. VusionGroup (FR, Tier B)

- What it does: Electronic shelf labels and in-store IoT/data platform (the Walmart rollout).

- Why a lead: Down about 38% over 12 months; median target €180–213 against €129.6 (Aug).
- Watch: Aggregator coverage is thin (2 recorded views) and the figures conflict. Concentration on one large customer.
- Sources: Idéal Investisseur

18. Nabaltec (DE, Tier B, small)

- What it does: Mineral-based flame retardants (aluminium hydroxide) for cables, including data-centre cabling; boehmite for EV battery separator coatings; technical ceramics.
- Why a lead: +44% to a €16 target; order backlog +36%, with demand from data centres cited.
- Watch: EBIT margin reset to 5–7%; small and thinly covered.
- Sources: Goldesel · aktien.guide

4.2 Chemicals, materials and critical minerals

5. AMG Critical Materials (NL, Tier A)

- What it does: Lithium (spodumene in Brazil, hydroxide refinery in Germany), vanadium recovered from spent refinery catalysts, tantalum/niobium, antimony, chrome and aerospace alloys.
- Why a lead: €29.18 (2-Oct) against a €44.8 average, so +54%. Degroof Petercam upgraded it to Buy (€40) in July and Deutsche Bank is Buy at €42. It is a direct play on Western critical-mineral supply security.
- Watch: Exposure to lithium prices, project execution, capex.
- Sources: Trivano consensus · Degroof upgrade

11. Titan Cement / Titan SA (BE–GR, Tier A)

- What it does: Cement and building materials, with the US as its largest market, plus Greece, South-East Europe and the East Med.
- Why a lead: 16 of 17 analysts rate it Buy, average target €68–70 against about €49. Hidden asset: Titan owns a majority stake in Titan America, listed in New York since 2025, so a sum-of-the-parts comparison (listed stake versus Titan's own market cap) is worth running.
- Watch: The price date is mid-2026; US construction cycle; FX.
- Sources: StocksGuide · TipRanks

12. Alzchem (DE, Tier A)

- What it does: NCN chemistry: nitroguanidine (an input to low-signature propellants, a defence bottleneck with capacity being expanded), Creapure creatine, guanidine salts, agri products.
- Why a lead: 8 analysts average €205.8 against about €160 (+27–30%). Targets rose through 2026 (the consensus was €191 before Q2), and the chairman bought shares.
- Watch: Deutsche Bank trimmed from €256 to €245 (still Buy) ahead of Q3; the shares fell 13% around Q2.
- Sources: DB trim · insider buy and targets · consensus

4.3 Defence supply chain (consensus still falling after the 2026 slump: Tier C)

37. Invisio (SE)

- What it does: Hearing-protection and communication systems for soldiers; global niche leader.

- Why a lead: About SEK 202 against targets of SEK 282–350 (4-month average about SEK 327).
- Watch: Every broker cut in Jun–Jul (DNB 375→320, Pareto 305→282, Nordea 370→350), all still Buy. Q3 on 27-Oct.
- Sources: Borskollen · DNB cut

38. Renk (DE)

- What it does: Gearboxes for main battle tanks and naval vessels, plus industrial gears.
- Why a lead: 13 of 16 analysts Buy, median target €64 against a price between €34 and €48 depending on source.
- Watch: BofA downgraded (€62.5→€42.5) and JPMorgan cut €75→€62 in late September. Pre-close call 21-Oct, results 5-Nov.
- Sources: BofA downgrade · Börse Express

39. Steyr Motors (AT, small)

- What it does: Compact high-power diesel engines for military vehicles, boats and generators.
- Why a lead: €27 against €49–53 (7 Buy, 1 Hold); Baader €61.
- Watch: 2026 revenue guidance was cut (defence orders delayed); small and volatile.
- Sources: Goldesel · Börse Express

4.4 Healthcare niches

4. Ottobock (DE, Tier A)

- What it does: World leader in prosthetics and orthotics (IPO October 2025).
- Why a lead: H1 profit doubled; Deutsche Bank raised its target to €85 and UBS to €78 in August; insiders bought. €58–61 against €80–85.
- Watch: Recent IPO, so free float and lock-ups matter; reimbursement exposure.
- Sources: DB/UBS raises · Börse Express

8. ALK-Abelló (DK, Tier A, large)

- What it does: Global leader in allergy immunotherapy tablets.
- Why a lead: 2026 growth guidance raised to 13–16% with an EBIT margin of about 26%, yet the shares sit at DKK 207 against a DKK 294 average (+42%).
- Watch: Why the shares fell is not established from these sources; check US paediatric uptake and pricing.
- Sources: tradedesk · Q1 guidance

19. Eckert & Ziegler (DE, Tier B)

- What it does: Isotopes for radiopharmaceuticals, a bottleneck input for the fast-growing radioligand-therapy market.
- Why a lead: About €13.5 against a €21.6 consensus (Berenberg €24); upgraded to Buy in August despite a Q2 revenue miss; FY guidance (about €80m adjusted EBIT) confirmed.
- Watch: H1 adjusted EBIT −6%; only about 3 analysts.
- Sources: Börse Express · upgrade

20. Bonesupport (SE, Tier B)

- What it does: CERAMENT injectable, antibiotic-eluting bone graft substitute (the gentamicin version is FDA-approved).
- Why a lead: ABG expects more than 35% organic growth in 2026, yet the shares fell more than 50% YTD to about SEK 190, against targets of SEK 270–428.

- Watch: US dollar headwinds behind the target trims; valuation stretched on trailing figures.
- Sources: Danske · ABG/DNB

6. Nolato (SE, Tier A)

- What it does: Polymer components; the Medical division makes injector and pen components for Novo Nordisk.
- Why a lead: A GLP-1 supply-chain play. Nordea raised its target from SEK 60 to 69 on 8-Oct on the Novo volume ramp and calls 10× 2027 EBITA an unusual discount to peers.
- Watch: Customer concentration on Novo.
- Sources: Nordea 8-Oct · Investing

21. Equasens (FR, Tier B)

- What it does: Pharmacy software leader in France (LGPI), plus software for health professionals and medical devices; historically net cash.
- Why a lead: €34 against €51–58 from independent brokers, so +50–70%.
- Watch: H2 software cycle; Oddo trimmed €56→€51. GreenSome's €63.7 is company-sponsored research.
- Sources: Oddo note · GreenSome (sponsored)

40. Camurus (SE, Tier C)

- What it does: Long-acting injectables platform (Brixadi/Buvidal); collaboration with Lilly on obesity.
- Why a lead: SEK 526 against targets of SEK 680–980 (Nordea's top pick in the sector). A GEP-NET Phase 3 readout is expected in Q4 2026.
- Watch: FDA Complete Response Letter for Oclaiz (CAM2029); binary catalyst.
- Sources: Borskollen · Nordea

41. Fagron (BE, Tier C)

- What it does: Global pharmaceutical compounding leader.
- Why a lead: About €22.4 against €28–29 (all Buy).
- Watch: Q3 (8-Oct) showed only +3.4% organic growth (total +23% from acquisitions) and a US IV-bag recall. Expect targets to drift down.
- Sources: Q3 · Fintel

42. Redcare Pharmacy (NL, Tier C)

- What it does: Online pharmacy; the German e-prescription ramp-up.
- Why a lead: Adjusted EBITDA margin at a 10-year high, yet the shares are around €59 against €86–94.
- Watch: Targets came down from €150+; UBS Neutral €55.
- Sources: Börse Express

4.5 Software, data and platforms (mostly the "AI fear" derating)

5. Watchlist: 12 near-misses with strong momentum or a contrarian setup

These miss the upside threshold, or have an unsettled consensus, but show the signal you asked for: rising targets, or a price overreaction.

| # | Company | Country | What it does | Price → target | Upside | Why watch |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 49 | Exosens | FR | Night-vision intensifier tubes, photon detection | €56–63 → ~€71 (Stifel €75) | +13–27% | Guidance raised 17-Sep; 4 target raises; Q3 27-Oct. src |
| 50 | Carel Industries | IT | HVAC/refrigeration controls, data-centre cooling | €28.2 (Jul) → €33.6 (8) | +20% | Record Q2, Mediobanca upgrade, Cotes acquisition. src |
| 51 | PVA TePla | DE | Silicon carbide/silicon crystal growing, chip metrology | ~€37 → €46–47 (all Buy) | +24–28% | Jefferies €31→€48; small cap so needs 35%. src |
| 52 | Theon International | CY / Amsterdam | Night-vision & thermal optronics | €32.4 → €39.9 | +23% | Record order book; on track for ~€600m sales. src |

| 59 | Dürr | DE | Car paint shops, automation, wood machinery | €16.7 (27-Sep) → €26.5 (11) | +58% | Deep value; Berenberg downgraded (€40→€21); not quality growth. src |
| 60 | Hypoport | DE | Europace mortgage platform | €77.9 (10-Sep) → Warburg €134 | +72% | Consensus stale and falling; high risk. src |

6. Screened out (appendix)

Reason codes:

- R: already re-rated; upside below the threshold.
- D: downgrades or consensus at or below the price.
- N: no usable consensus, or only one analyst.

- M: takeover in progress.
- T: not quality growth, or turnaround.

| Company | Code | Note |
|---|---|---|
| LU-VE, Troax, AQ Group, Secunet, Sidetrade, Frequentis, Nedap, Schott Pharma, Gerresheimer, Cenergy, NKT, Norbit, TKMS, SGL Carbon, Siltronic | R | Price at or near targets after the 2026 rally |
| Carel, Mersen, Nexans, Exosens, Theon, Lumibird, Elmos, Aixtron, PVA TePla, Befesa, DEME, HMS Networks, Sesa, Viscofan, Borregaard, Robertet, Royal Unibrew, Puig, Faes Farma, Fuchs, IMCD, Medistim, Vetoquinol, ChemoMetec, Sectra, Thermador, Tomra, Netcompany, Bechtle, Amplifon, Interparfums, Hensoldt, Sdiptech, Text, TKH | R / near miss | 13–28% upside; several have rising targets (see §5) |
| Carl Zeiss Meditec, DiaSorin, Vitrolife, Planisware, IONOS, Lanxess, Wacker Chemie, Kemira, SOL, Corbion, Arcadis, Aalberts, Jensen, Austriacard, Orion, Andritz, Brembo, KWS Saat, Dermapharm, Séché, CAF, Mycronic, Nordic Semiconductor, X-FAB, Grenergy, Danieli, SEB, Sopra Steria, El.En., Stratec, Bekaert, IBA, Beijer Alma | D / R | Consensus at or below price, or Hold/Sell majority |

| Wendel, Peugeot Invest, Sofina, GTT, Virbac, De'Longhi, Tinexta, Vaisala, Puuilo, Kitron, Xvivo, Neurones, Detection Technology, Tessenderlo, Wavestone | N | No usable recent consensus found (holdings: discount to NAV only) |
| Soitec, Industrie De Nora, Azelis, Fugro, TeamViewer | T | Weak growth or turnaround; Fugro and TeamViewer show 15–33% upside but fit the quality-growth style poorly |

7. Method, limitations and next steps

How the list was built:

1. Searched broker top-pick lists and screening articles by country and theme (UBS, Kepler, Jefferies, Intesa, French, German and Nordic press).
2. Built a list of about 200 PEA-eligible candidates biased to niche quality growth and to your themes (AI/semiconductor, grid and data-centre, defence, GLP-1, radiopharma, critical minerals, rail, offshore wind, specialty chemicals, plus derated quality).
3. Checked each candidate for price, consensus target, number of analysts and recent target changes.
4. Applied the thresholds, tiered the survivors and wrote the cards.

Limitations to keep in mind:

- Not a full mechanical crawl. Direct access to data sites is blocked in this environment, so names were found through search rather than by scanning every listed company. Under-followed micro-caps are certainly missed.
- Mixed dates. Prices and targets come from aggregators (Börse Express, aktien.guide, Investing.com, Idéal Investisseur, Trivano, Borskollen, SoldiOnline…) at different dates. About 25 lines rely on June–August prices. Most urgent to re-check:
  - Mips, Fluidra, Interpump, Camurus, Sanlorenzo (June)
  - Lectra, Atoss, DO & CO, Technogym, Palfinger, Mensch und Maschine, Vossloh, Equasens (July)
  - SUSS MicroTec, Eckert & Ziegler, Ottobock, Jungheinrich, Stabilus, Ipsos, VusionGroup, Cadeler, Nolato (August)
  - Exor, Kontron, Titan Cement (undated or older)

- Sponsored research (paid for by the company: GBC, SMC Research, GreenSome, Edison, sometimes Quirin or NuWays) is flagged where seen. It inflates targets for small caps.
- The search budget ran out (200 searches per session) during the final price check. A follow-up message can continue the verification.

Upcoming catalysts (Q3 season):

| Date | Companies |
|---|---|
| 21-Oct | Renk (pre-close call) |
| 22-Oct | Ipsos, Kitron, Mycronic, Nexans, SEB |
| 27-Oct | Invisio, Exosens |
| 28-Oct | Mersen, Borregaard, Orion, Puig (investor day) |
| 29-Oct | Amplifon, Harvia, Netcompany |
| 3-Nov | TeamViewer |
| 5-Nov | Renk, Hensoldt, PVA TePla, IMCD, ChemoMetec |
| 10-Nov | Jenoptik |
| 11-Nov | Royal Unibrew |
| 12-Nov | Eckert & Ziegler |
| 17-Nov | ALK, EVS |

Q3 results will reset many consensus figures, which is a good moment to re-run the "consensus trend" column.

PEA practicalities:

- Eligibility: PEA eligibility depends on the company's registered office being in the EU/EEA (UK and Swiss companies are excluded). All names here meet that test: Exor and AMG are Dutch, Titan Cement is Belgian, Theon is Cypriot, Befesa is from Luxembourg.
- Broker access: Many PEA brokers do not give access to Stockholm, Copenhagen, Oslo, Vienna or Athens. That affects:
  - Stockholm: Invisio, Mips, Bonesupport, Camurus, Nolato
  - Copenhagen: ALK-Abelló
  - Oslo: Cadeler, Medistim
  - Vienna: DO & CO, Palfinger, AT&S
  - Check your broker's list before going further.
- PEA-PME: Smaller names may qualify (fewer than 5,000 employees, and revenue under €1.5bn or total balance sheet under €2bn). Verify per company.

To make the next run fully systematic: allow `finance.yahoo.com`, `query1/query2.finance.yahoo.com`, `marketscreener.com`/`zonebourse.com` and `boursorama.com` in the environment's network settings, or upload a screener CSV. The same pipeline could then scan the whole PEA universe mechanically, including target and EPS revision history, and refresh this list.
